Preface

THIS praise-book has a notable feature. It is the first to use the text of the Uniform Version of the Psalms approved in 1909 by the Joint Committee of nine American and Canadian Churches, and adopted in 1910 by the United Presbyterian Church. After years of waiting, the inspired Psalter has been rendered into choice English verse, such as the modern standards of literary taste demand. At the same time, along with smoother and more poetic diction, the form and color of the original have been retained substantially, and especially has care been taken against sacrificing anything of its sober dignity. In the thought of many this metrical translation of the Divine Hymnal, because of its excellence and its undenominational character, is destined to meet with broad acceptance among the Churches and become historic.

The present book is made up of one hundred and four selections from the new Version, and is meant to serve for families, Sabbath-schools and Bible classes, young people's societies, prayer-meetings, and union services. The music employed is worthy of the Psalms, and with this it is thoroughly singable, being marked by simple and persuasive melody, easy rhythm, and moderate compass. The tunes comprise many old-time favorites, besides which there are fifty-two taken from outside printed sources and six newly composed by that popular author, Charles H. Gabriel. Twenty-seven chorus numbers, with some of the lighter strains in their measures, have been introduced. An index of first and special lines and one of composers are appended.

The Editorial Committee sends this book forth on its mission in the assurance that the matchless hymns of the Psalter here embodied, full as they are of the breath of the Lord, will enrich the service of praise and minister to the spiritual life of God's redeemed children.

PSALM 2. 7s. D.

SALVATOR

CHARLES H. GABRIEL

1. Where-fore do the na-tions rage And the peo-ple vain-ly dream
 2. But the Lord will scorn them all, Calm He sits en-throned on high;
 3. This His word shall be made known, This Je-ho-vah's firm de-cree:
 4. There-fore, kings, be wise, give ear; Hearken, judg-es of the earth;

That in tri-umph they can wage War a-gainst the King su-preme?
 Soon His wrath will on them fall, Sore dis-pleas-ed He will re-ply:
 Thou art My Be-lov-ed Son, Yea, I have be-got-ten Thee.
 Learn to serve the Lord with fear, Min-gle trem-bling with your mirth.

Christ His Son a scoff they make, And the rul-ers, plot-ting, say:
 Yet ac-cord-ing to My will I have set My King to reign,
 All the earth at Thy re-quest I will give Thee for Thine own;
 Kiss the Son, lest o'er your way His con-sum-ing wrath should break;

Their do-min-ion let us break, Let us cast their yoke a-way.
 And on Zi-on's ho-ly hill Mine A-noint-ed I main-tain.
 Then Thy might shall be con-fessed And Thy foes be o-ver-thrown.
 But su-pre-me-ly blest are they Who in Christ their ref-uge take.

 4. His Name shall ever-more abide, In Him shall all the world be blest;

From sea to sea shall be His sway, And to the earth's remotest end.
 And kings with gifts shall pay their vow, His enemies shall bend the knee.
 And Zion's citizens delight And prosper in their King's command.
 By all the nations far and wide His praise shall ever be confessed.

5 Now blessed be the Mighty One,
 Jehovah, God of Israel,
 For He alone has wonders done,
 And deeds in glory that excel.

6 And blessed be His glorious Name
 Long as the ages shall endure;
 O'er all the earth extend His fame.
 Amen, Amen, forevermore.
