

I am sure you are weary that your Court be your great Labour, a love, I know and I believe it is love, you are continually buying little talks and impertinences among your Brethren, and I think you may be properly call'd a Busy Body according to the Scripture. Mr. Jewel has call'd him a busy I don't see that you have any business to call on to ^{take} your Jewel hand till Sunday, and you go and kill another, because he did so, if you have taken Example from Mr. Jewel being sent your father his good Lady. I think your Court a thousand times more in your own Country even at Cambridge and would be very glad to see you till it to call you a Liar and a Thief, and to charge it a brand in writing - You make great complaints and charge of having been used, if you had but really you were not complain of any Body, you would yourself out of your own Country, you would be left out of our School, and your name out of of the Church, and you are turning yourself out of the favour of every Body as fast as you can. Except those that are of your Name - Take care that you don't turn your self out of Heaven - ~~How tedious is your letter~~ You complain to be the least Gentlemen in Wales I am sure you had enough and too bad, you mention that you got old Robert (Cathland), his name would be chosen to me and my time, would be chosen to him, he must performe his own books before his number and I must performe for mine - you think as if it was in your Power to do me wrong you have been buying all your time and your money yourself, I am not contented with it, but I don't

I think to thank you - when you have wrote to me several times I have not wrote to you, and you have expected this from me. You were not write to me any more - for I will not ~~write~~ answer you letter. I should spend my time and paper about them if you have ~~any~~ things to say to me at any time say it by word of mouth. your Obedt

J. O'Connell

To R. S. (William)

From your father's copy.

For