

Dear Sir
Llano, Aug 25, 1799

I have an opportunity to send you in to Oregon by mistake. Your letter regarding Mr. Van Antwerp, he is going west with the British Hull's wife's book, and took my letter the morning, and I have mentioned you and your to you fully, and recommended you to the others that there is no need of my writing if you desire yourself, I send with this, the recommendation for you, and I think you ought to get your book in the month to give you a recommendation yourself - I have returned to you but will love and you may take as much as you like, and if you want to heart you may let a love - This is from

Yours, John A. Cooper

Daughter's Room

To all Christian People, to whom it Cometh the Subscribed Letter greeting.

I have had and a long intimate acquaintance with Benjamin Gayser, the former brother, he is a poor man, with ^{some} signs of good grace, and he is a temperate man, he frequently preaches in the Religious meetings, when the Lord is present for him. But he is very unsteady in his faith, he is his father, and is much destitute of any ^{other} grace, and I wish to recommend him to all Christian People, where ever he may be the Providence he may best.
