The man was armed with a revolver fully loaded. He was taken to the village and placed in the town prison, where he was examined this afternoon and declared to be insane.

Shortly after 10 o'clock last night Weilbrenner drove to Sagamore Hill in a buggy. He was stopped by the secret service operative on duty. Weilbrenner said he had a personal engagement with the President and desired to see him. As it was long after the hours when visitors are received, the officer declined to permit him to go to the house. The man insisted, but the officer turned him away. Soon afterward Weilbrenner returned and again insisted that he be allowed to see the President if only for a minute. This time he was ordered away and warned not

Just before 11 o'clock the man returned a third time and demanded of the officer that he should be permitted to see the President at once. The officer's response was to take the man from his buggy and put him in the stables, where he was placed under the guard of two stable men. A revolver was found in the buggy. Later Weilbrenner was brought to the village and locked up. He is five feet eight inches high, twenty-eight years old, has a medium-sized dark mustache, black eyes and evidently is of German descent. He resides In Syosset, about five miles inland from Cyster Bay. He was well dressed in a suit of dark material and wore an old-fashioned derby hat. It is thought by the officers that Weilbrenner was accompanied by two other men, as their footprints were found in the mud alongside the buggy tracks. In view of this fact the officer on duty telephoned to the village for assistance and was soon Soined by two other secret service men.

TALKED LIKE A LUNATIC. While Weilbrenner talked rationally to the officers last night it seemed evident from his conversation to-day that he is demented. He said he had received a telegraphic communication from the President directing him to call at Sagamore Hill. Weilbrenner's buggy was taken to a local livery stable barn. When asked what had become of the rig. Weilbrenner replied: "Oh, the President has taken care of it; that's all right."

At Syosset it was learned that the man is the son of a truck farmer and is one of three brothers. He has two sisters. The family is respectable and is held in general esteem. Wellbrenner several years ago had a nervous attack which rendered him mentally helpless for a day or two, but his famposed that he had been quite retored by the medical treatment he received at that time. Since then he had manifested no symptoms of mental aberration. He had no socialistic or anarchistic tendencies so far as known, never having been interested in any questions of that kind. He was Weilbrenner was arraigned to-day before Justice Franklin, on complaint of the secret service operatives who placed him under arrest. Weilbrenner's brother William was present at the examination.

WANTED TO WED MISS ALICE. Justice Franklin questioned the prisoner about his movements last night. His replies were made in a quiet tone of voice indicated apparently beyond doubt that the man is crazy. Asked why he went to Sagamore Hill, he replied: "I went to see the President about his daughter Alice." "Had you an engagement with the Presi-

"How was that engagement made?" "I talked with the President last night," "How did you talk with him?"

"Oh, I just talked." "A sort of wireless talk, was it?" 'Yes, that is it-a wireless talk." "Why did you want to see the President

"I wanted to marry her." "Did you ever see Miss Roosevelt?" "Yes, I saw her night before last." "Where did you see her?"

'At my house.' "D'd she go over there?" "Yes, she came in a red automobile." 'Who accompanied her? "Her brother Theodore."

A lunacy commission was appointed and Weilbrenner was examined this afternoon. Drs. George Stewart and Irving S. Barnes conducted the examination. Weilbrenner was declared by them to be insane. He was taken to Mineola, Long island, on an evening train and placed in the custody of the county authorities.

PRESIDENT KNEW ABOUT IT. It appears that President Roosevelt was aware of the trouble the secret-service officers had with Wellbrenner last night. After the man had been turned back the second time, despite his insistence that he had an engagement with the President, the officer inquired of the President about the Mr. Roosevelt was in his library. only a short distance from the spot where the officer had stopped Weilbrenner's horse. He told the officer he had no engagement

When Wellbrenner returned a third time with a demand that he be permitted to see the President, the officer seized him and drew him out of the vehicle over the front wheel. The noise of the scuffle attracted the President's attention. He appeared at the door overlooking the drivevay from the veranda as Weilbrenner was taken Mitchell, a negro, and president of the Nainto the stables, but returned to the library ilmost immediately. Weilbrenner had been practicing with his revolver recently, but he would give no charged with swindling ex-slaves by promreason for his interest in marksmanshir and to-day said he could not shoot very well. It appears that one of his brothers, who attended the examination this afterm, is a metal worker and belongs to a abor union in Brooklyn. Some time ago is a good one, but the family is in debt for it, and the father, Henry Weilbrenner, and the son who was arrested last night have been working hard to lift the indebtdness. The son from Brooklyn is said to have talked a good deal to his brother re-cently about labor unions and about the loss of his position. It is thought that the hard work and the trouble over the farm ARMED CRAZY MAN WANTED TO indebtedness had something to do with un-

STATUE OF M'KINLEY.

Bronze Cast to Be Unveiled at Toledo September 14.

President McKinley, which was successfully cast here a few days ago, will be shipped to-day to Ohio. It will be unveiled at Toledo, Sept. 14, the anniversary of President McKinley's death, and will stand in the park in front of the courthouse. The statue, which is ten feet high, represents President McKinley standing in a characteristic attitude, his left arm behind his back and his right hand holding a manuscript, waiting for the applause to cease. The amount subscribed for the statue, $15,000, was raised by citizens of Toledo the week after President McKinley's death.

Report Confirmed by the Mother of the Prospective Bride, Who Is One of America's Richest Girls.

LONDON, Sept. 2.-The engagement is announced of Miss May Goelet to the Duke of Roxburghe.

NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 2.- The announcement from London of the engagement of the Duke of Roxburghe to Miss May Goelet, was confirmed here to-day by Mrs. Goelet. The Duke has been a guest of the Goelet mansion for several days, and the announcement of the engagement was not unexpected by the observant members of the social set here, who had decided that the foreigner was a suitor. The Duke and Miss Goelet went to New York yesterday to witness the yacht race, but returned

The baby, apparently unconscious of its peril, went with the buggy top and all fell to the ground together. The buggy top proved the salvation of the child. It acted as a parachute from a balloon and the child was picked out of the wreckage without a serious injury.

Fugitive Is More Sinned Against Than Sinning, His Friends Believe-Text of the Address.

At a meeting held last night in the Ocidental Hotel by the prominent Irishmen of Lynchehaun, now wanted by the English government for escaping jail in Ireland, it was decided not to hold the public meeting for to-morrow night as planned, but to issue an address to the public in the nature of an appeal for fair play. The resolu-

As it was at first thought best to call a afford an opportunity for the lovers of law and fairness of our city to give expression to their feelings regarding the arrest, of Thomas Walsh as a supposed escaped convict, at a later conference it was concluded that, as the meeting was to occur before the trial, the real object thereof might perhaps be understood. And, as we are all Americans, proud o our citizenship in this land whose courts are the most fair and lenient in their judgments, whose laws are the most equal in establishing man's rights; a land whose object it is to elevate man by teaching him love and justice, instead of debasing him by cruelty and injustice, the committee now considers the meeting superfluous and dismisses it for the present by submitting for the consideration of our fellow-citizens the following resolutions: Whereas, On the 25th of August, 1903, a poor Irish exile, who had found an asylum our city, and was peacefully supporting his little family at honest toil, was arrested as an escaped convict at the instigation of an alleged representative of the British government, assisted by Pinkerton detecves, who dogged his footsteps, even to the sacred precincts of the church; and, Whereas, This man was dragged from a sickbed by the minions of England, who were thirsting for a large reward offered for one James Lynchehaun, though this man's name is Thomas Walsh; and, Whereas, These sleuths, spurred on by the hope of financial reward, were endeavoring to spirit him out of our city without a fair trial, in which they were fortunately thwarted: and.

Whereas. We do not believe that this poor Irish exile is James Lynchehaun; and. Whereas, Even if the identity of Walsh as Lynchehaun should be established, we helieve that he, by being sentenced to penal servitude for life, and having served eight terrible years at penal servitude in a Bristol prison, torn from the arms of his griefstricken family, he has served more than time sufficient to expiate the offense of assault and battery, with which he was

Resolved by the undersigned citizens of Indianapolis, who feel justified in asserting that they voice the sentiments of every Irishman and of every lover of justice in the circuit of the globe, that the imprisonment of any human being at penal servitude for life for committing a simple assault and battery is an inhuman, unchristian act, and a travesty upon justice; and be it Resolved, That any nation which passes

Be it resolved, That our appeal for this suffering and maltreated brother of ours is not intended to arouse the passions and prejudices of our brethren and friends here and elsewhere, nor do we seek to circum-vent the belief that he has been "more sinned against than sinning." for if he is the man sought, we candidly believe that as a recognized leader among his people, he be came the special object of the bitter hatred

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 2 .- Three explosions to-day on the Austrian steamer Vaskapu, soon after it left the Bulgarian port of Burgas, en route for Constantinople. killed twenty-nine persons. The vessel caught fire and had to be beached. A telegram conveying this news was received by the agent of the Hungarian Levant line, to which the Vaskapu belongs. The telegram said the Vaskapu had been destroyed in the Black sea. The captain and officers of the steamer and six of the crew were killed. The Vaskapu sailed from Varna, Bulgaria, and after calling at Burgas was steaming through the Black sea to Constantinople, when three explosions took place on board. The deck of the vessel took fire, and she had to be run ashore at Misivros bay, eighteen miles north of Burgas. The Vaskapu was built in Newcastle in 1891, and was a steamer of 1,076 tons. She was 260 feet long and 36 feet beam, and a depth of 16.9 feet. A Revolutionary Outbreak.

LONDON, Sept. 2.-Special dispatches from Constantinople published here describe the destruction of the steamer Veskapu as a revolutionary outrage. They say that steamer was in the port of Constantinople but that, owing to the vessel being twenty plosion occurred off Misi, Ria bay. Among the missing supposed to have been blown overboard is Herr Lendvay, belonging to the head office of the steamship company.

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Sept. 2 .- The report published by the Dnevnix of a general uprising in northern Macedonia is denied both in official and revolutionary circles. Well-informed persons, however, assert that the report was correct, but that its premature publication disarranged the plans of the revolutionists, and, therefore, it is denied. According to reliable reports from Monastir, thousands of Bulgarians in that vilayet are confronted with famine in addition to Turkish persecution. Peasants who are continually arriving from Monastir complain of the attitude of Hilmi Pasha and the Turkish authorities. BALDWIN, L. I., Sept. 2.-Deputy Sheriff Louis J. Cook early to-day shot and killed one burglar, probably fatally wounded a second and captured two others. He discovered them trying to break into a vacant house at Baldwin's Park, near here, and a desperate fight followed, but Cook escaped injury. The men are supposed to have belonged to a gang which has been active for several weeks in this section, and the deputy had been on the watch for them. The man who was killed had attacked Cook with a corn knife, but after a struggle the deputy managed to draw his revolver and fire, the ball piercing the man's side, killing him instantly. After shooting the second man, Cook was joined by Charles Crowley, a resident, and they soon captured the two fleeing men. The men are Italians and are thought to be brothers, but refuse to give their names or tell anything about their lives.

LAFAYETTE SCHOOL BOARD HOLDS A MIDNIGHT SESSION.

Withdraws a Decision Against Principal-Jeffersonville Man's Unique Method of Curing Catarrh.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. LAFAYETTE, Ind., Sept. 2 .- The School Board held a conference late this afternoon in reference to the investigation of the conduct of Prof. Glascock, principal of Washington school, and it was given out after the meeting that the board had decided to remove the professor. Late to-night, however, it was announced that the afternoon decision of the board had been revised. This action was taken at a midnight session when the board adjourned until Saturday

President Johnson, of the School Board, said to-day that the testimony of Miss Harriet Guest and Miss Fiora Hudlow was a great surprise to the board. Miss Hudlow, who was a pupil in the Washington school, testified that Prof. Glascock fondled her and attempted to caress her each time she was alone with him in his office. Today public indignation has been growing, and a determined move was being planned to have Glascock removed. Glascock is captain of Battery C. Indiana National Guard. He has a wife and a blind son, the latter being in an Indianapolis school. The matter has come to a climax while the annual county teachers' institute is being held in the city. Last night the School Board held an exciting meeting to take action on the petition of the Lafayette Ministers' Association that the charges against Prof. Glascock be more fully investigated. The meeting was held in the office of the school superintendent, which was guarded by police. Miss Harriet Guest was the chief witness. She said Prof. Glascock came to her home, which is opposite Washington school, while she was making her toilet. She alleges that he forced an entrance and that she had to fight to protect her honor. Miss Flora Hudlow also took the stand When her testimony was given her father, R. J. Hudlow, who is a Monon engineer, threatened to strike Prof. Glascock. He made a lunge at the principal and was prevented from carrying out his threat. A large crowd gathered outside the meeting room and the doors were carefully watched.

FASTED TWENTY-FIVE DAYS.

Jeffersonville Man's Novel Remedy for an Attack of Catarrh.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., Sept. 2.- John Mimms, of this city, has just completed a fast of twenty-five days, imposed upon himself as a cure for catarrh of the head Aside from feeling a weakening effect of his long fast he says he feels no other ill effects. On Aug. 6 Mimms decided to tr the experiment and not until last evening did he partake of food, with the exception of a few grains of wheat on one occasion and a little tomato juice at another time. At times he says his hunger became so intense that he could scarcely stand it, and it was on occasions like this that he allowed himself to eat the wheat and taste the tomato juice. This only served to intensify his cravings for food and then he decided to allow no food of any description to pass his lips. What he ate last evening consisted of a small quantity of wheat flakes. He said to-day in talking of his experience, that he believed his condition, so far as the disease is concern-

HURT IN CHARIOT RACE.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Sept. 2.-Judging of sheep, cattle, horses and hogs took place at the county fair to-day and a crowd of 3,000 persons saw the ribbons and premiums awarded. Crouch & Son, of this city, won a majority of the prizes in the horse department. There was a fine display that surpassed anything ever witnessed here before. An accident in the Roman standing and chariot races marred the sport yester-day and nearly resulted in the death of one of the participants. First Mr. and Mrs. Hoagland, the performers, rode a half mile standing on their horses' backs and made the distance in less than a minute. In the four-horse chariot race the two vehicles collided in front of the judges' stand at The day will be devoted to speaking and the start. The eight horses reared and renewing acquaintances. In the evening plunged for a distance of seventy-five feet, when one of the beasts fell. Mrs. Hoagland was thrown among the frightened horses, in Clay county. Officer Krauss rescued her before she was badly hurt. The chariot race was then

WINDFALL, Ind., Sept. 2 .- The fourth annual reunion of the soldiers and sailors of all wars held here to-day was a com plete success. It was an ideal day for an outdoor meeting and everything went well to make the meeting an enjoyable occasion. The forenoon was taken up in receiving reports of officers, the election of officers for the ensuing year, fixing time and place of the next annual reunion, short speeches by comrades, vocal and instrumental music. The afternoon exercises opened at 1:30, the principal feature of which was a very able address by the Rev. J. F. Burnett, of Muncie. Each feature of the day was interspersed with music by the choir or the Elwood band. After the address of Mr. Burnett a number of short speeches were made by comrades. The officers for the ensuing year are James Harper, of Sharps ville, president; Isaac Booth, of Tipton treasurer; Jesse Barlow, secretary; Jacob

A feature on the carnival grounds to-morrow night will be the public wedding of a prominent young couple of Marion. The Pathfinders offered a fine bedroom suite to the couple that would consent to be married before the throng of people attending the carnival. The offer has been eccepted by a couple, said to be of a prominent family. The names will not be made public previous to the man lage. It is expected the event will prove a big drawing card.

Stockman's Institute.

special to the Indianapolis Journal. NEW CASTLE, Ind., Sept. 2.-A district stockman's institute was held here to-day and yesterday under the auspices of Purdue University. There was a large attendance of stockmen from Henry and surrounding counties and very great interest was manifested in this effort of the university to give the farmers the benefit of experiments at the Purdue station and to bring together for conference, the most successful stockmen of the State. This is the only institute of its kind to be held in the State this year, but another district meeting for fruit growers and in the interest of good road-making will be held in New Albany, Sept.

Among the instructors at the stockmen's institute in this city are Mrs. Virginia C Meredith, of Cambridge City; A. G. Burkhart, of Tipton; J. H. Skinner, of Purdue "University; F. H. Rankin, of the University of Illinois; H. F. McMahan, of Liberty, besides numerous local stockbreeders.

THE MACEDONIAN REVOLT.

Reasons Why the Christians Do Not Beat the Mahommedans.

London Spectator. Perhaps the greatest perplexity in the politics of the Balkans is a certain weakness in the Christian population. Why do not the insurgents beat the Turks? They are more numerous, they have the strongest motives for fighting that men can have, they have a most defensible country, and most of them in Macedonia are of the same race as their oppressors. Yet we all know, or at least believe, that if the great powers do not intervene the oppressors will conquer the insurgents, perhaps extirpate them, certainly drive them back into their that question in one of two ways-by declaring that the Turks are far braver soldiers, or by abusing the Balkan peoples for the county, district, state, tri-state, Rocky | their hatred of one another; but neither reply is quite conclusive.

The latter, indeed, is a little ridiculous. Those who urge it, as the Times, for example, frequently does, always say that Greeks and Bulgarians hate each other, that there are differences of race and creed in the southern portion of the peninsula which make cohesion impossible, and that a "general" insurrection is really only an insurrection of some division of the people They cannot be independent for they cannot be united, and therefore cannot frame an effective government. And then they add that whenever a Turkish governor general is a reasonable and capable man order is at once restored, and the jarring tribes and congregations cease to clash and become a people. Will any one explain why if a Turkish governor general can weld his subjects together so perfectly and easily, a European prince must fail in performing the same feat? He is distinctly nearer to the people than the Turk, he works through wiser methods, and he has a greater perinterest in succeeding, that is, in building up a strong little kingdom which he can transmit to his descendants. Why is it always assumed that he must fail, when in Roumania, Servia, Bosnia and Bulgaria he has more or less succeeded? As for the comparative courage, Turks are no doubt brave soldiers. the other to work on contracts or other their qualities have always been better developed in the men than in the officers; the Poles, who are Slavs, often defeated them, and so did the Germans, and the Bulgarians are perfectly ready to face them in the field. They themselves acknowledge that the Albanians, who are by race Europeans, are braver than themselves, and they have never been able to conquer the Montenegrins, who are Christians, and on the whole, till very recently, less well armed. We can see no clear reason for believing that if the Macedonians, in despair of any other redress, rise universally | meeting in the interest of the project to as men in despair usually do fight, they

Food Value of Rice. Ohio State Journal.

It is cheering for the housekeeper know, in these days when the grocer and the butcher show no mercy, that there is still one cheap edible which the experts class as a nearly perfect food. That's rice, and the world is idebted to the Rev. H. S. Clubb, of the Philadelphia Vegetarian Society, for turning public attention to it. The Rev. Mr. Clubb, working in conjunction with the Agricultural Department at Washington, discovers that the Japanese army outfooted the armies of Russia, England, Germany, France and America in the advance on Peking. The Japanese soldier can double quick for fourteen hours without stopping and do it again the next day. He may be shot straight through the body and hardly know anything hit him. Cause why? Cause he eats rice. So if any one has an unconquerable ambition to outfoot the armies of the world to double quick for fourteen hours without a break or to be shot through the body without knowing he's touched, all he has to do is to save his money and live on rice. But one cloud overcasts the horizon of hope. We suspect that even now some greedy band of capitalists is organizing a rice trust.

May Disrupt the Unions.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

HARTFORD CITY, Ind., Sept. 2 .- There is a feeling in window glass circles that some of the Indiana members of L. A. 300 in both the Denny and Burns organizations will atetmpt to disrupt the two labor unions. In spite of the fact that the presidents of both the factions have agreed to a postponement of the start and have refused to give out any scale, several Indiana concerns signified their intention of ignoring the unions, and are planing to go into blast Sept. 15. It is claimed here that Fowlerton will start Saturday and the Eureka at Upland on the 14th. two plants have always been operated by Burns men. TRADE, INDUSTRY, LABOR. During the month of August last the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Coal Company's output of coal at the Woodward colliery, near Wilkesbarre, was 64,000 tons, being the largest tonnage ever mined by any single colliery in the Wyoming region. The stockholders of the New England Cotton Yarn Company met Wednesday in Jersey City and voted to dissolve the corporation. Albert T. Wall presided, and he said the action of the stockholders gave the directors the right to sell the assets of the company. The development of the cotton trade in the interior of British West Africa is so great that the railroad officials have been obliged to run extra trains in order to bring down the large supplies to the coast. There is every prospect of a further increase in the cultivation of cotton. The California Raisin Growers' Association has signed up 90.99 per cent. of the acreage. This exceeds the expectation of the most sanguine, and the association will conduct business and maintain prices for the coming year. The directors, after a protracted meeting, made the following prices on raisins: Two crown, 6%c; three crown, 61/2c; four crown, 7c. These are the highest prices ever named on raisins.

The Standard mill, at Colorado City, Col., against which institution the present strike of the miners in the Cripple Creek district had its inception, was closed for an in-definite period on Wednesday.
